

NEW DEAL LOSES MAJOR BATTLE ON STEEL CO.

OFFICERS GET TRAIL OF LONE STATION BANDIT

Arrest of Man Who Attempted Holdup Here May Be Result

Chief of Police J. D. VanBibber, Special Agent W. J. Fitzgerald of the NorthWestern and Walter Trautman, ticket agent at the local depot who was the victim of an attempted robbery Monday afternoon, went to Rochelle today to view a body which had been found late yesterday afternoon about four miles northeast of Rochelle. The investigation revealed that the body was not that of the holdup suspect, relatives having arrived from Chicago this morning to claim it.

In the meantime Chief VanBibber and Special Agent Fitzgerald were continuing the investigation in an effort to apprehend the lone bandit. Information gleaned by the chief yesterday was expected to be of assistance in apprehending the culprit, when he learned yesterday that the bandit had been examined at the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital Monday afternoon after the attempted holdup, but had been released shortly afterward when a physician could find no cause for medical attention.

Feigned Suffering

The bandit drew the attention of an automobile about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the corner of Fourth street and Highland Avenue when he feigned suffering intense pain, and claimed to be the victim of an attack of appendicitis. The driver, whose name was not divulged today by the police, pending the outcome of the investigation, took the stranger in his car to the hospital and a physician was summoned to examine him.

The doctor found evidences of the bandit's having submitted to an appendectomy some time ago, but could find no other cause for treatment, and after giving a brief history of his case, the suspect left the hospital with the physician. They drove to the Chamber of Commerce building at the bandit's request, where he inquired as to the schedule of buses and then accompanied the physician to the corner of Galena avenue and First street. Here he left the car, stating that he wanted to get something to eat.

Bought New Hat

In his investigation, Chief VanBibber learned that the stranger purchased a new hat, replacing the one that he had left at the NorthWestern passenger station in the struggle with the ticket agent. In the history gleaned at the hospital, he was said to have given a name and address in Chicago, which was being investigated today by NorthWestern special agents. The address given was said to be a rooming house in Chicago. Special Agent Fitzgerald expected to obtain a warrant on a charge of attempted robbery here this afternoon. In the mean time Chief VanBibber had requested Chicago detectives to take the man in custody in the event that he reappeared at the Chicago address.

The investigation late yesterday disclosed the fact that the stranger possessed a considerable sum of money and promptly paid the obligations he incurred at the hospital.

Sheriff Delos Blanchard of Oregon requested the investigating officers to come to Rochelle this morning and view the body of a young man which had been found in Kibuck creek about four miles northeast of Rochelle late yesterday afternoon, believing that it might be the bandit suspect. Before the officers arrived however, identification of the body held at a Rochelle morgue had been established and relatives had arrived from Chicago to take charge of the remains.

ELGINITE SUICIDED

Seattle, Wash. —(AP)—Charles W. Cornell, 47, former resident of Elgin, Ill., was found dead in his auto on the Seattle Golf & Country Club grounds, a tube from the exhaust pipe leading into the car. Coroner Otto Mittelstadt called the death a suicide from dependency. His widow survives as well as relatives in Elgin.

"BONY MARCH" ON

St. Paul, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The "bony march" to the state capital ended on the statehouse lawn today—just to show the legislators "what starvation means."

Three shrunken beasts, exhibits of deplorable drought conditions in western Minnesota, stared legislators in the face.

Taken up to Capitol Hill, a lank cow, horse and pig were placed in a position where the state's lawmakers saw at first hand evidence set forth in farmers' pleas for immediate relief.

The three gaunt animals, constituting the "bony march," were brought here during the night by Arthur Spencer of Beardsley, Minn.

When the legislators see them, reasoned the farmers who sent Spencer here, action on relief demands may come sooner.

The legislators are holding up action on three relief measures pending word from Washington on Federal aid for Minnesota.

"SECRET 100" OF CONGRESS PLANS TO BOOST COSTS

Would Hire Extra Clerk for Every Member of the Lower House

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A test of the strength of the still incomplete "Secret 100" in the house of representatives appeared in store today. It was disclosed that a bill would be pushed soon to let each member hire one more clerk at a total cost of $440,000 a year.

The bill was introduced by Rep. White (D-Iowa) who vigorously disavows any connection with the attempt to unify "dissatisfied" Democrats into a group of 100 which would vote together and keep its plans secret from the regular leaders.

But newspapermen were informed that the idea of giving an extra clerk to each house member had been approved by chiefs of the "Secret 100." It obviously lacked the endorsement of the regular leaders.

At the same time, an organizer of the "Secret 100" who asked that his name not be used, told newsmen the fact that such an organization was being formed had forced leaders to promise:

1. A "more equitable" distribution of patronage.
2. A "free" vote on the bonus, without gag rules.
3. Full consideration of bills to stop the issuance of tax exempt securities.
4. Opportunities for consideration of other legislative proposals favored by a "substantial" number of house members but not on the administration's original program.

Want Campaign Funds

Furthermore, he added the Democratic congressional campaign committee would call soon on James A.

Secretary of American Bar Assn. Former "Little Cabinet" Officer, Begins Ten Day Sentence in Jail

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Sitting in jail today William P. MacCracken could take some comfort in the fact that he will serve only eight days and 18 hours of his 10-day sentence for contempt of the United States senate.

Superintendent T. M. Rives of the District of Columbia jail, where MacCracken was admitted at 4 P. M. yesterday, said that under the prison rules, the day of arrival and day of departure are considered part of the sentence.

The Washington lawyer, who once was Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, will be released at 10 A. M. Thursday. Rives said.

MacCracken's sentence was imposed during the sirmal investigation when certain documents sought by the senate were found to have been destroyed. He denied any connection with their destruction. He appealed, but the supreme court upheld the senate.

Waiving his right to ask a rehearing, MacCracken, who is Secretary of the American Bar Association, surrendered to Chesley W. Jurney, senate sergeant-at-arms.

He said he had decided to serve the sentence "conscious of the fact that I have done no wrongful act," and expressed the belief that "some situation will arise in the future which will cause the court to modify this holding."

COOK CO. YOUTH FOUND DEAD IN OGLE CO. DITCH

Walter J. Mueller, 25, of Mt. Prospect, Victim of Sundays Storm

As snow of Sunday's blizzard began to melt Tuesday, the frozen body of a victim of the storm was discovered in a ditch beside a lonely road eight miles northwest of Rochelle.

The body of the storm victim, Walter J. Mueller, 25-year-old Cook county farm youth, was found late yesterday afternoon by Clare Reed, Rochelle farmer. It was lying in a ditch beside the brick school house road about three miles east of the Meridian highway.

An automobile belonging to the youth was discovered a mile and a half from the body, its gasoline tank empty. Sheriff Delos Blanchard of Ogle county said he believed the youth had lost his way in the storm Sunday night while searching for a farm house where he might obtain some gasoline after the supply in his car was exhausted. He apparently had fallen into the ditch and had been unable to get out.

Parents Start Search

Discovery of the body terminated a two-day search for the youth conducted by his parents. He had left his home near Mount Prospect Sunday noon, according to information received by Sheriff Blanchard, and when he failed to return Sunday night, his mother and father became alarmed and notified the Mount Prospect police.

For several hours after the body was found, no clues to the identity of the youth could be found. There were no cards or letters in his clothes, and it was not until Sheriff Blanchard traced ownership of the automobile that identity was established.

Kankakee, Ill.—(AP)—John C. Dixon, 72, was acquitted of manslaughter charges in the slaying of his daughter-in-law, Mary, and her son by a previous marriage, Herbert Doud, after a quarrel Feb. 1 over care of Dixon's invalid wife. He was adjudged insane and will be committed to a state hospital.

"MADE IN JAPAN"

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—"Old Glory" would be a strictly home-made product under a bill introduced by Rep. Ellenbogen, (D. Pa.)

It would prevent the use of American flags and emblems made in foreign countries and provided penalties of a $1,000 fine or 60 days imprisonment for violators.

Ellenbogen said he was prompted to introduce the bill after his attention had been called to a luncheon given in Pittsburgh at which the Stars and Stripes, used as table decorations, were stamped, "Made in Japan."

REPUBLICANS IN GEN. ASSEMBLY "TAKEN TO CAMP"

Senate Floor Leader Estimates Plan to Help Democratic Jobless

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Fear that the Republican minority in the legislature is being "taken into camp" by the Democrats on the relief question was expressed today by Senator Earl B. Searcy, of Springfield.

"It begins to look," the Republican senate floor leader said, "as if there is a well laid plan to first vote the money for relief and then, after the money is assured, reorganize the relief set-up in the best interests of the Democratic party."

The senator said he had noted that all relief activities at present were pointed toward raising the money and that, so far as he can determine, Democratic leaders were not now concerning themselves with reorganization of the disbursement machinery.

Need G. O. P. Support

"Whatever bill is passed to provide the $3,000,000 monthly for relief," Searcy said, "will require Republican votes for passage, at least in the house, as it will contain an emergency clause and needs two-thirds majority."

He said he feared it was the intention of the Democratic leaders to do nothing about reorganization of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission for the time being although, he thinks, they plan to do so before the session is ended.

"By getting the Republican votes for the appropriation now," Searcy said, "they will accomplish their purpose. Later, after the money is assured they probably will seek to reorganize the administration of relief in the best interests of the Democratic party. They will be able to do this by a simple majority vote, which they have in both houses, as they can permit the reorganization to wait until after July 1."

To Demand Show Down

Searcy said he intended to have a "show-down" with the Democratic leaders on this issue and demand that reorganization coincide.

14,000 Farmers in Illinois Received Drought Aid Loans

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission announced today that almost 14,000 Illinois farmers have received federal drought relief loans, totaling $552,767, since the rural relief measure was inaugurated last summer.

The loans, limited to $25 a month a farmer for the feeding of livestock, averaged $39 a loan for the eight-month period. Wilfred S. Reynolds, secretary, said.

Loans had been repaid Dec. 31, by 4235 borrowers totaling $237,181, leaving $315,585 outstanding said Reynolds.

Only farmers in the 84 counties of the drought area are eligible for the aid.

HAUPTMANN IS READING MUCH OF SCRIPTURES

Wife Declares Bruno Isn't Disheartened in Trenton Prison

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Bruno Hauptmann has turned to spiritual consolation as he waits in the Jersey state prison, where he is held for developments on his appeal from a death sentence.

"He's not downhearted. How could he be, when he's innocent?" said his wife, Anna Hauptmann, after a visit to his cell yesterday with the Rev. D. C. Werner of New York.

The minister said Hauptmann prayed daily and accepted spiritual advice. He brought the prisoner a German book, "Steps to Christ," and affirmed, too, that the prisoner was in apparently good spirits. Mrs. Hauptmann said her husband asked her many questions about their infant son, Manfred.

It was regarded as more than likely that the attorneys would ask the court of errors and appeals to postpone argument on the appeal from the May to the October term because of inability to prepare a case in time. The trial manuscript, from which the appeal is being formed, amounts to more than 1,500,000 words.

Mill, Landmark in Southern Illinois Burned Last Night

Nashville, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Rire destroyed the Hugely mill, a southern Illinois landmark, last night with an estimated loss of $100,000.

Firemen came from Centralia and Mt. Vernon to help fight the flames. The blaze, caused by spontaneous combustion, spread rapidly from the cellar of a wheat elevator over the mill.

Ten thousand bushels of wheat burned in one elevator, but another 10,000 bushels, which were stored in a concrete elevator, escaped.

The mill, said to have been one of the largest steam mills in Illinois, was built in 1860. It had been operated at intervals the past few years. Fire loss was covered by insurance.

GOOD SHAVE PAYS

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A good shave not only gives a man that "clean-cut" appearance, but pays political dividends as well.

Carl L. Fielder, 65, of Chicago Heights, who recently came out from behind a 42-year-old crop of whiskers on a dare from his political opponent, Frank W. de Bolt, was nominated for city commissioner of his town yesterday by an overwhelming vote.

De Bolt, who had charged that Fielder was trying to hide something in back of his long beard, went down to defeat. He received but 1,267 votes compared with 2,559 for Fielder.

Guard in Key Sentry Post at Bank of England Mysteriously Slain in Early Morning Darkness; Secrecy

London, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A 20-year-old Welsh soldier standing guard in one of the key sentry posts in the bullion yard of the Bank of England was mysteriously slain in the early morning darkness today.

Tight-lipped police and military authorities declined to comment on whether the guardsman's death was an accident or suicide, but it was understood one cartridge was missing from the victim's ammunition belt.

Authorities said the dead man was James Baker.

Moeller was fourth and Allen Taylor trailed the entire field with a total of 90 votes throughout the city.

Loftus received 1,017 for sixth position; Louis Schumm, a former commissioner, 913 for seventh position and Frank C. Spruhl, 728 for eighth candidate.

WINTER ASSAULTS EAST.

By The Associated Press. While winter's frontline assaulted eastern states, temperate weather in the van started to obliterate a snow blanket and frigid temperatures that gripped the west and large sections of the south.

Temperatures raced downward along the eastern seaboard as snowstorms swirled in from the west, muffling New York, Pennsylvania and other states. In a few hours the mercury fell from 53 degrees to 15 in New York City. Storm warnings were posted to all eastern shipping.

More than nine inches of snow gripped the Panhandle of West Virginia and spring weather was routed by snow from the nation's

FLIES' DESIRE

Berkeley, Calif., Feb. 27.—(AP)—It's this way with flies—they'd rather sit on an orange than a cucumber if the choice depends on color.

Such was the deduction announced at the University of California here today as a result of scientific observation of color preferences of thousands and thousands of flies.

A huge checkerboard with 11-inch squares in various colors was hung up in a dairy barn of the university's College of Agriculture. The flies were invited to come and express their personalities.

For three months this went on while Lester J. Berry, graduate student in charge of the experiment, and his aides kept watch. The tabulated results announced by Berry:

Not less than 10,752 flies parked on the orange square only 2,967 sought out the green. Primrose yellow drew 6,541; Carmine 4,415; light blue 3,480; and white 2,360. More esthetic flies went after coral red and pink.

Berry said the point of the experiment was to determine what color barn would be best to indicate to the flies that the welcome mat had been withdrawn.

THREE SHIPS IN VAIN SEARCH ON NORTH ATLANTIC

Fail to Find Liner After Answering Her Distress Calls

London, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The fate of the British freighter Blairgowrie, disabled by a howling mid-Atlantic gale, was a mystery today as the liner Europa and two other vessels hunted her in vain through mountainous seas.

The failure of any of the three ships which sped to the craft's SOS to report they had reached the freighter's side gave rise to apprehension that the Blairgowrie may have foundered, carrying its crew of 26 to their deaths.

The Europa, the American Banker and the S. S. Blommersdyk, a Netherlands vessel, all rushed to the position given in the Blairgowrie's distress message but found no trace of the freighter.

Reported Hold Filling

The crippled ship's last report gave her position as about 760 miles west of Brest, and 1,000 miles east of Newfoundland. She said her steering apparatus had been carried away and her hold was filling.

The 3,259 ton freighter was ten days out of Swansea, Wales, when she fell prey to the violent gales which have strewn the north Atlantic ship lanes with crippled vessels for the last few days.

One by one various other ships damaged by the storms were struggling into port or waiting for the high winds to abate before trying to proceed.

Eight Railroads to Divide Minneapolis & St. Louis System

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Sale of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad to eight competing lines with consequent dismemberment of the system was announced as agreed upon today by the Reconstruction Corporation.

The corporation has agreed to advance $7,200,000 to the purchasing roads which will bid on the property at a federal court sale. The road has been in receivership since 1923.

In addition to the $7,200,000, the roads agreed to take over outstanding equipment trust certificates totalling $1,018,000.

About 500 miles of the track were expected to be abandoned. The remainder will be parceled out to the Burlington route, the Chicago & NorthWestern, the Rock Island System, the Illinois Central, the Great Northern Railway, the Chicago & Great Western, the Wabash Railroad and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific. Each road will take the portions of the line which they can use to best advantage.

The silence which settles over London's financial district after nightfall, was broken shortly before dawn by the crack of a rifle shot.

Baker was found lying on the ground, a bullet wound in his head. He died soon afterward.

The young soldier, unmarried, had been in the army only a year. The Bank of England has been guarded nightly by a detail composed of an officer, a sergeant, two corporals, 24 men and a bugler since the institution was threatened by an infuriated mob during the Gordon riots in 1789.

DO YOU AGREE?

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)
An adventure, said Chesterton, is a danger rightly considered; a danger is an adventure wrongly considered.

If a man wants to live dramatically, let him go through a changing, unfixed world with a head full of fixed ideas.

The outburst of intolerance to-day, when we are knocking each other on the head, turns the clock back to the caveman.

When we think that youth is all wrong and the world going to the dogs, we are "sufficiently decayed," Katisha said to Ko-Ko.

A soul is dyed the color of its thoughts; and we are what we think about, what we are keen about, and most of all what we love.

In times of stress the demagogue is heard; loud mouthed, light-headed, he promises paradise and sells gold bricks to build it.

"No gentleman would insult me," said Frederick Douglas; "and no one who is not a gentleman could insult me."

We are speeding up in order to save time, but what are we going to do with the time saved, fill it or just kill it?

"Always do what you are afraid to do," said Emerson; more harm is done by running away from a thing than by facing it.

We suppress what may be harmful to others; we repress what may be harmful to ourselves—but it often bobs up again.

Time is the cradle of hope, the grave of delusion, the stern corrector of fools, and the friend and helper of the wise.

"Armed with a dream worthy to be believed," here, surely, is the most wonderful weapon ever wielded by the soul of man.

Fine clothes, big houses, movies, motors, servants, theaters, gold mesh bags, modern plumbing, are not necessary to happiness.

Vanity is a consolation prize mercifully given to those who win nothing else in the uncertain, inscrutable game of life.

A word of Jesus found in India: "The world is merely a bridge; you are to pass over it, and not build your dwellings upon it."

George Lebre Has Happy Surprise on His Birthday Sunday

Sunday the basket ball team of the I. N. U. Co., of which he is a member, and a friend, Bert Whitcomb, met at the home of George Lebre and gave him a happy surprise on his birthday. The friends gathered during the absence of Mr. Lebre and when he arrived home there they were. The happy affair was planned by the host's mother. After he had recovered from his first surprise, he made all welcome. A delicious three course supper was served.

The decorations were in keeping with George Washington's birthday, and were very pretty, in red, white and blue. The center of the table was adorned with a large birthday cake with candles. The place cards were little red, white and blue hatchets. The afternoon was spent in reviewing former basketball ball games. On departing for their homes the guests left George many nice gifts and wished him many such happy birthdays.

Luther League To Present Farce Friday Night, Mar. 1st At St. Paul's Church

On Friday night, March 1st, at St. Paul's Lutheran church, the Senior Luther League of the church will present a farce in three acts, "So You're From Missouri." The entertainment will start at 8:15. Following is the cast of characters: Herbert Browning, who wants to write romance—George Weyant; Marion, his wife—Edna Glessner; Dick, his friend—Paul Clouse; Elinor, Dick's fiancée—Jane Wickley; Lillian, who wants a husband—Lillian Schick.

Alphonso Brecky, who writes romantic stories—William Pontius. Sarah, his wife—Edna Weyant. Meadows, the butler—William Wickley.

Greta, the maid—Ruth Bollman. Officer Kane, who likes a bit of romance—Ralph Dewey.

Herbert wasn't up to a thing. He was simply trying to write love stories. But that explanation did not ring the bell with his wife when she turned up a handful of burning love messages in Herbert's handwriting. She was a Missouri girl. To make it a bit more convincing, Herbert then said that he was collaborating with Brecky, the famous writer. The name was on the tip of his tongue because he'd met a sweet young thing the night before, and not wanting to give her his own name, he had said that he was Brecky! But "what a tangled web we weave!" His wife writes to Brecky to verify what Herbert has said, and the "sweet young thing," Lizette, calls to renew the acquaintance. Fortunately, the wife has gone to the train, and there seems to be time enough to get Lizette out of the way. Herbert's friend, Dick, poses as Brecky, while Herbert passes himself off as the butler. Lizette agrees that she is wasting her talents on a mere butler and goes—forgetting her pocket book! The wife returns and greets the friend as Brecky! It's all going famously. The pocket book is noticed, but Dick says it belongs to his wife, Mrs. Brecky. Then Lizette comes back to claim her purse and is received as Mrs. Brecky. And then the Heavens just open and rain trouble—for the true Brecky arrives, with the true Mrs. Brecky on his heels! Dick's fiancée appears and discovers that he apparently has another wife! A funny Swedish maid, a jaunty Irish cop and a stately butler add to the whizz of complications. If you're from Missouri and want to be shown a good play, we recommend this one.

Mrs. Dave Helmick Happily Surprised

Yesterday Mrs. David Helmick was given a happy birthday surprise when a number of her friends gathered at her home. The delightful affair was planned by Miss Dorothy Helmick. The guests held a handkerchief shower in honor of Mrs. Helmick and she received a number of them with best wishes from her friends. Miss Helmick invited all to the dining room where a tempting birthday luncheon was enjoyed, the table being decorated with spring flowers. In the games played, Mrs. Boda and Mrs. Reagan won prizes.

Miss Eustace Addressed Art Class

The Art Class held a most enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. I. B. Potter, Monday afternoon.

Miss Anne Eustace spoke on Dutch and Flemish Art.

The art of the two countries is very different due to economic and religious conditions.

Burges is the home of Flemish art and of the early Flemish artists. Van Eyck lived in Ghent and his picture "The Adoration of the Lamb" is noted for its immensity and scope of design. Membling's Madonnas were said to be pasty-faced and pallid, and he was not an artist of movement or action.

It was said that Antwerp was too small for two suns in one sky—Rubens and Vandyke. Rubens' masterpiece was "The Descent From the Cross."

Vandyke had a great talent for portraiture. He went to England and became court painter.

Frans Hals and Rembrandt were Dutch painters.

Rembrandt lived most of his life at Antwerp. He was a wonderful painter of color. When he painted "The Night Watch" he sacrificed his popularity to his love of color. He died in bankruptcy.

Miss Eustace while in these countries visited the great art galleries and her talk proved most interesting. She is most observing and has a keen, analytical mind.

Henry P. Chandler to Address Institute Sat.

Henry P. Chandler, President of the Civil Service Association of Chicago will address the American Citizenship Institute Saturday, March 2nd. The Institute will be held at 10:30 in the high school. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

TEARS AND LAUGHTER IN WORLD OF NEWS

If you have tears to spare, shed a few for the Long Island gentleman who got religion at a street corner revival meeting and, as a result, went straight to jail.

Moved by the spirit, this man addressed the crowd and told how he had, in his unregenerate past, stolen two valuable bronze candlesticks from a church in Brooklyn. It was just hard luck that a detective who was working on that case happened to be in the crowd. Now the repentant convert is in jail on a charge of burglary.

By such odd little twists does the news of the day move. We find, for instance, in White Plains, N. Y., a man remarried his divorced wife because she is the only bridge partner he ever had who could be counted on not to trump his aces. The discovery came less than six months after their divorce.

Then there is the Arizona cattleman who says he had been wanting to "sock a governor" for 20 years, and who finally relieved his feelings by stepping up and hitting Gov. B. R. Moeur in the eye—getting, in return, a split lip from the governor's counter blow, and a night in jail.

A French aviator, meanwhile, returns from Russia with the news that the Russians are finishing new fighting planes at the rate of one every two days, and Russia's effort to pay off old debts in the United States by incurring new ones falls flat.

Two English airmen finally finish their part of the England-to-Melbourne race four months late, but console themselves with the thought that they knocked four months off their own previous record for the flight, anyway.

A Philadelphia widow sues a motion picture operator for $10,000 for breaking her heart, and the jury agrees that something ought to be done about it, but marks the damages down to one dollar.

A policeman who was dropped from the force at Columbus, O., on charges of gambling announces his candidacy for mayor, and an English milkman is inspired by the maternal clatter of his bottles and pots to become a highbrow musical composer.

A world's record for fertility in pigdom is set in an English farmyard, where 25 little pigs are born all in one fell swoop. Simultaneously, a relief official in Dallas, Tex., reports that 64 per cent of all the babies born in Dallas last year were born to parents who were on relief.

And then—just to cap the climax of news oddities—a beaver sneaks into the house of an up-state New York hermit and gnaws off the man's wooden leg!

WAR MAKES DEMANDS ON EVERYONE ALIKE

As the Senate moves closer to passage of a law limiting war-time profits in the munitions trade, senators who have investigated that traffic are reported to be preparing a new blast at the way it was handled in the last war.

Members of the Nye committee, it is said, will seek to prove that there was something very like a strike of capital in the most crucial moments of our war with Germany. Big munitions makers, they charge, delayed production to quibble over profits at a time of national crisis.

Senator Nye says bluntly that they "forgot patriotism for personal gain."

It is impossible to forecast just what sort of law will come out of all this. But whatever is done, it will simply be a reflection of the great change which has come over war-making in the last generation.

Nowadays, when a nation goes to war, it must go as a unit. The soldier is only the spearhead of its effort. Behind him all the wealth and industry of the nation must be united.

The amount of wheat a farmer may raise, the amount of money a mechanic may demand for his work, the extent to which a maker of 10-cent store novelties may buy rubber for his needs, the proportion of steel production which can be allotted to the railroads, the interest a banker may charge for loans—all these things, and a myriad more, must be controlled by the government as strictly as the movements of the army itself are controlled.

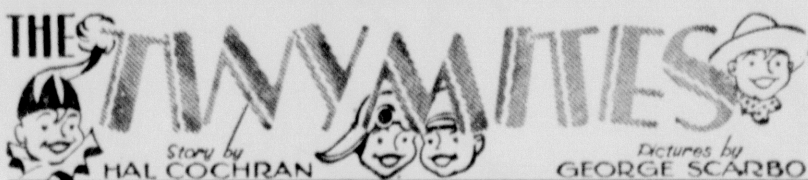

This is because the scope of modern war has broadened so tremendously. In the old days war was carried on chiefly by professional armies, augmented by volunteers. Except for rising prices and a shortage of manpower, a nation's daily life was not very greatly affected by the war.

The British tried to follow that custom in 1914, with their slogan of "Business as usual." They soon found that such a slogan is out-of-date in modern war as a Greek bazaar.

Business can't be conducted as usual; every citizen and every institution must be a cog in the war-making machine.

It is for that reason that the old, individualistic method of creating and marketing war supplies is obsolete in war time. Individual rights must be over-ruled. Freedom, in the ordinary sense, is suspended for duration of the conflict.

That is why some form of government control over the munitions trade is a wartime essential. It is also, when you stop to think about it, the greatest of all arguments against war itself.

Wee Dotty to the giant said, "while we were fishing in that very stream."

"Now that you have your boot on me, I do not think you should be so. Our bringing it back to you, sir, is almost like a dream."

"All right," replied the giant. "I will prove I am not a real bad guy. I will let you out, on the ground. Then you can tell your tale."

"Don't try to fib, because I will know, if what you say is not really so. I have sought this boot for days and days, but it was to no avail."

"You see, while wading through a stream, I heard a great big woombird bird scream. It startled me and out I ran, to find my boot was gone," searched and searched, but had no luck. I guess down in the mud it was stuck. I fell asleep right by the stream and didn't wake till dawn."

"Well now you will believe what I have to say. We caught it, just the other day," wee Dotty said, "while we were fishing in that very stream."

"That's fair enough," the giant said, "but I am quite a sleepy-head, and I must take a snooze. First, then we will all be on our way."

The Tinkles let him sleep a long while, and then wee Dotty, with a smile, began to tickle his big foot. The giant shouted, "Hey!"

SERVE FINE MEALS AND LUNCHEONS

THE OREGON CAFE SERVES THE BEST IN LUNCHEONS

The people of Oregon are indeed fortunate in having in their midst a lunch room such as the Oregon Cafe that possesses an atmosphere of comfort and refinement and where the food is prepared in a most sanitary kitchen under the supervision of a chef whose years of experience in this line has earned the reputation of being one of the best in this entire section. We will all concede the fact that no matter how high the quality of the original foods may be, in order to attain a delightful and palatable taste they must be prepared by one who is adept in the proper seasoning and cooking. In fact the process of cooking has now come to be classed as an art in which few excel.

No effort or expense has been spared by the management of the Oregon Cafe in providing the highest quality in food, prepared in a manner that makes one compare it with the kind that was served at the daily dinner table at home. In their comfortable booths one can enjoy a tasty luncheon at noon, or a short order or any variety of sandwich. In refreshments they offer the finest blend of coffee, tea or milk. You must learn for yourself what a pleasure it is to dine at the Oregon Cafe.

The business is conducted under the ownership and general direction of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stone who have been in this business for many years and are thoroughly familiar with every phase of what constitutes satisfactory service.

When the opportunity presents itself it would be well to visit them and determine for yourself just what advantages they offer in the culinary art. The fine variety itself makes it a pleasure to visit this dining room regularly. Do you know what variety of sandwiches they offer?

OFFER PRIZES FOR ESSAYS ON BUSINESS FIRMS

THE RESIDENTS OF FRANKLIN GROVE AND VICINITY ARE INVITED TO READ "PRIZE ESSAY STORIES" AND WIN CASH AWARDS

The opportunity to win a $3 cash prize is offered readers of the Dixon Evening Telegraph in Franklin Grove and vicinity through the "Prize Essay Stories" which appear in this issue of the paper. These stories are about various firms and companies in that district, telling how they have served and are serving their community.

The last sentence in each story is in the form of a question. Those who wish to enter the contest should call or visit each firm for the correct answer and then write a short story about one of the firms.

This, with the full set of answers should be sent to the Prize Essay Editor at the Dixon Evening Telegraph, Dixon, Ill.

Here Are The Rules

1. Read each of the stories about Franklin Grove firms or professional services in this issue. Upon reading it, it will be found that each story ends with a question pertaining to the service of the firm about which the story is written.

2. Therefore the contestant must call the firm to obtain the answer. These questions are phrased so that the correct answer can only be obtained from the firm. Each contestant will be given identical answers.

3. In addition to obtaining the answer to all of the questions, you must write an essay of not more than 100 words on any one of the firms mentioned.

4. Send your list of answers and essay, not later than the second day following publication of the stories to the Prize Essay Editor, of the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

5. Members of the Evening Telegraph organization and their families are barred from the contest.

OPERATE MODERN GRAIN ELEVATOR

W. M. HERBST ELEVATOR, AT FRANKLIN GROVE HANDLES COAL, FEED, AND FLOUR

Because of the large volume of business transacted and because of the high quality products that are handled, combined with up-to-date business methods, the W. M. Herbst Grain Elevator in Franklin Grove has gained in that section a commercial prestige as an excellent market for farmers and townfolk. The advantage of being located in that immediate territory and of being able to buy right there from the farmers has been of benefit to the farmer himself, in that the highest grain prices are paid by this firm and shipping cost is eliminated and this saving is passed on to the farmer in the form of maximum prices.

The Herbst Elevator are dealers in flour, feed and coal, and are cash buyers of grain. There, too, they maintain a grinding and mixing service. The fact that this firm is located right in your midst also enables them to offer highest quality at the most reasonable prices. The farmer will always find them in the market for his grain with top prices being offered.

Mr. W. M. Herbst, the owner and manager of this firm, is thoroughly conversant with all phases of this business, and under his direction the firm has done much for the development and progress of Franklin Grove and vicinity.

For many years this establishment has been supplying the people of that district with coal. They are in a position to advise the customer as to the size and quality of coal best suited to each individual need. People of Franklin Grove and surrounding territory will find it to their interest to see the W. M. Herbst Elevator today about the balance of the winter's coal supply.

We believe that citizens of that section are fortunate in having such an up-to-the-minute grain elevator owned by people of their own community in their midst.

Do you know how long this firm has served the people of that section.

ASSURE PATRONS OF FRESH FOODS

L. A. TROTTON STORE, IN FRANKLIN GROVE, PROVIDE HIGH QUALITY GROCERIES

To be certain of obtaining the best of groceries and provisions at a home-owned store is a boon to any community. When the people are assured of the highest quality foods, at a store right at home, a store that offers a prompt and courteous service, then that firm deserves the consideration and liberal support of both the townspeople and the farmer. Your local business man has the interest of the community at heart and is ever willing to aid in anything that adds to the betterment of the populace.

The L. A. Trotton Store is a local Franklin Grove establishment where the highest quality prevails at the lowest possible cost. The dependability of the service is most gratifying and people of Franklin Grove and vicinity will find that all that is needed is a trial to convince the most exacting.

Particular attention is given by them to quality and sanitation. There is nothing more pleasing than to walk into a market that is strictly clean and sanitary. One can relish their food much better when they know it has come from an establishment such as the L. A. Trotton Store.

The popularity of this Franklin Grove concern is not alone due to the well known brands of canned or package goods and foods of all kinds, but in a very great measure to the personality of the management and employees, who are local people. It is not only their aim to carry at all time a complete line of quality provisions, but to do so in such a manner that the people will enjoy their periods of marketing, which so many find such an irksome task.

Such concerns as the L. A. Trotton Store in Franklin Grove, that are independently operated and owned in their own community, operate on a smaller margin of profit than any other line of business, and at this store they turn over their stock many times a year, thus assuring their customers of fresh goods at all times.

We take pleasure in complimenting the proprietor, Mr. L. A. Trotton, and his employees upon their efficient and dependable service. If you live in or near Franklin Grove and are not familiar with this firm, it will be to your advantage to pay them a visit.

OBITUARY
Homer Chase Hudson, second son of the late Charles and Mary (Bradstreet) Helmershausen, was born in Franklin Grove, Ill., Sept. 8, 1870, and died in Rupert, Idaho, Feb. 22, 1935, aged 64 years, 5 months, and 14 days. He grew to manhood in Franklin Grove, attended school and worked hard for clean athletics. He attended the Northwestern University, majoring in Civil Engineering work, and took great interest in college sports.

Going to Salt Lake City, Utah, to assist in spanning a bridge over Great Salt Lake, he became interested in the west and located there. With his brother Floyd he was engaged in raising beets for the sugar industry. When his brother died, July 4th, he took over the farm to care for, and with his own work, he over-exerted himself and died due to heart failure.

On May 22, 1905 he married Miss Nellie Katherine Burritt of Anamosa, Iowa, who died Feb. 11, 1925.

To mourn his loss he leaves one daughter, Helen Elizabeth, two brothers, Frank of Kansas City, and Henry of Chicago, two sisters, the Misses Adella and Alice Helmershausen of this place, three nephews, three nieces and several cousins.

Funeral services were conducted in Rupert Sunday afternoon with burial there.
